

Nonprofit Inventory

Vandalism and natural disasters often occur and nonprofits stand to be devastated in some cases, as the money available to them is limited. Property insurance can help keep the property and assets of a charity intact or replaced in case of an unforeseen event.

Typical policies will cover:

- Lighting systems and interior decorations such as carpets or hardwood floors
- Machinery and tech equipment
- Furniture and any office supplies
- Electronics and computers
- Inventory, supplies and equipment

The amount of protection each nonprofit needs varies greatly, which causes the rates to vary for each one. The type of policy is also important as some cover the replacement cost and some only cover the depreciated value of the items damaged or stolen.
